Problem 1

Because sum is a local variable, returning the reference of a local variable is meaningless to outside the function, one should return an object to let others get the return value.